

People Here and There

W. A. Hoagland used to be a resident of Pendleton, but he now resides in Walla Walla. He was here on business yesterday.

Pendleton is a good place to live in, according to G. W. Bradley who with Mrs. Bradley and their sons have just returned from Spokane where they spent a few days on a combined business and pleasure trip. They attended the Inter State Fair there. The racing card was particularly good, he states, and the whole fair was well worth while.

E. P. Marshall, farmer and one of the best-known citizens of Pendleton, is among the arrivals at the Benson. Like all the people from that town, he is boosting the annual Round-Up and predicting that it will be bigger and better than ever. One reason why the Round-Up is a success and why everyone boasts for it is that none of the officials draw a nickel of pay and they donate their services, time and money in a spirit of civic pride. Already Pendleton has had the grand opening, which marks the preliminary to the Round-Up, the grand opening being the time when all good boosters wear the biggest cowboy hat they can find, put on a poxy shirt and get ready to spend the money free and handsome in Happy Canyon.—Oregonian.

Chester Flanning was a Pendleton visitor yesterday.

Sam Margules, territory manager for the Oldsmobile Co., is here today on business.

Frank Lucas, of the Selberling Lucas Music Co., of Portland, is a visitor here today.

John Bell is a pioneer of Weston. He was here yesterday taking care of business matters.

many points on the lower levels of the Argonaut where there is good drinking water, and it is believed the men sought safety where the air was good. Only 12 days, midnight Sept. 8, have passed since their last meal, and the unanimous belief is the men are alive. The statement by superintendent Garbarini was issued "after long and careful consideration."

No active candidates for any of the elective offices have been announced yet, though the election is only two months distant. Rumors continue to slip out of political alley about proposed candidates, but the bee hive is still very quiet.

RIVOLI SUNDAY AND MONDAY

MIGHT, NOT LAW, IS RULE IN SOUTH SEA ISLES

Conditions shown in Jack Holt's picture, "The Man Unconquerable." Those who occasionally register complaints against inadequate police protection, should spend a few months in some of the remote islands of the South Pacific, such as are pictured in "The Man Unconquerable," a new Paramount picture starring Jack Holt, which will be shown at the Rivoli theatre next Sunday.

The police force of the island in question is limited to three men of assorted uniforms and arms, who would rather do anything than face danger. Many parts of the world are no better policed and the comparative freedom from fear of punishment makes these gentry bold and aggressive.

Jack Holt, in the role of Robert Kendall, shows how a man who believes that the same conditions of comparative honesty and freedom from danger obtain on the island as elsewhere, and finds himself mistaken, runs into a situation where he has to take the law into his own hands. When out in one of his boats, he provides himself with a machine gun and in one encounter with pearl pirates, sinks their schooner when they try to drive him a way from his own pearl concession.

This and other exterior scenes were made at picturesque Balboa Beach, one of the beauty spots of the Southern California coast line.

ARCADE SUNDAY AND MONDAY

"PAID BACK" BOASTS A CAST

OF REAL FILM HEADLINERS

Gladys Brockwell and Stuart Holmes

Play Leading Roles in New

Universal Drama. In "Paid Back," the Universal all-star attraction at the Arcade theatre next Sunday Irving Cummings directed Hamilton, Edna Murphy, Kate Price, Lillian West, Arthur Stewart Hull, Wilfred Lucas and other players of real prominence. All-star this surely is.

Gladys Brockwell was a star for one company for three years. The last big success she had in this affiliation was "The Sage Hen." As a star she ranked among the highest.

Stuart Holmes is a villain de luxe of the screen. He has been featured in pictures and in advertising many times. Mahlon Hamilton's name has been featured in many a production, and he is one of the most popular leading men.

Kate Price is a screen "mother" with a wide following of fans. No character actress has a greater popularity, and producers have known this and played her name up in publicity. Edna Murphy is a popular leading woman, very young, but very near success and stardom. Wilfred Lucas and Arthur Stewart Hull have been "big" in character roles for many years, and Lillian West is decidedly popular in juvenile feminine leads.

Cummings himself has been one of the most popular men of the screen, but renounced his popularity as an actor to battle for recognition as a director.

ALTA SUNDAY AND MONDAY

"WILD HONEY," LATEST

FEATURE TO BE SHOWN

AT THE ALTA THEATRE

Priscilla Dean soon will be seen here in "Wild Honey," a Universal picture adapted from Cynthia Stockley's popular novel of that name. It is said to be the most thrilling melodrama Miss Dean has ever made for the screen. Those who remember her in "Outside the Law," "Reputation" and "Conflict" realize that "Wild Honey" has to be considerable of a "thriller" to outdo her previous photodramas. It will be shown at the Alta Theatre beginning Sunday.

Elsie Mackay, daughter of Lord Inchcape, has passed her tests as a licensed pilot and is now a full-fledged flier. Here she is examining her plane.

COULD NOT TURN IN BED

Operation Avoided by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Dayton, Ohio.—"I had such pains that I had to be turned in bed every time I wished to move. They said an operation was necessary. My mother would keep saying: 'Why don't you take Pinkham's, Henrietta?' and I'd say, 'Oh, mamma, it won't help me, I've tried too much.' One day she said, 'Let me get you one bottle of each kind. You won't be out very much if it don't help you.' I don't know if you will believe me or not, but I only took two bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine when I began to get relief and I am regular ever since without a pain or a headache."

When I lie down I can get up without help and without pain. I can't begin to tell you how I feel and look. I have begun to gain in weight and look more like I ought to. I think every day of ways I have been helped. Any one who does not believe me can write to me and I will tell them what shape I was in. I am ready to do anything I can to help you. Write to Mrs. HENRIETTA MILLER, 137 Sprague St., Dayton, Ohio. If you have any doubt write to Mrs. Miller and get her story direct.

acting of her entire screen career in the sequence of scenes depicting her wanderings while lost in the desert.

The story concerns an English society girl who passes through a remarkable series of adventures. Finally to find her heart's desire on the sands of South Africa. Universal, in its advance information, promises that the picture has "the sweetest kiss ever screened." It doesn't explain whether it is due to its fervor or to its footage.

"Wild Honey" was directed by Wesley Ruggles. Robert Ellis plays opposite the star, and the well-known screen villains, Wallace and Noah Beery both take heavy roles in this picture. Others in the cast are Lloyd Whitlock, Raymond Blathwayt, Percy Challenger, Helen Raymond, Landers Stevens, Carl Stockdale, C. J. Frank and Harry DeRoy.
